Director's Notes

Loved the 80 and 90 degree days, but all good things come to an end. Now the 50's, time to take those Chevy's out for a few final days when the sun is shining.

I want to thank the members that helped out at the Griffin Show. It is always a great time to get together with friends. There was a "Great Sausage Race" between our Mr. Gene Schneider and the Sausages. The final finish is still under review by the committee. Gene continues his racing career. What will he race next?

Our next meeting is October 15th back at Waukesha State Bank.

See you then.

Your director, JoAnn Swanson

It is that time of year again

Yes, day light saving time is just around the corner and it is also nomination time. We encourage all members to consider running for the board. It is not hard and we could use your input. We can always use some new faces as well as some that have not been on the board for a while. Please consider it. Without a board, we cannot continue to function as a club.

Fresh Ideas Welcome

If you have an idea for something that you think our club members would be interested in seeing, please contact your newsletter editor. We are always looking for new things to communicate to our members.

Griffin Chevrolet Show - Recap

Thanks to all the members that came out in force to assist with the show. We had to work around some major last minute changes to the parking lot layout and, unfortunately due to the poor public turnout, there weren't any overwhelming issues in finding parking spots. The weather was great except for a bit windy at times. It appeared that everybody enjoyed themselves. A special thanks to Pete for supplying the music.

As you can see below, we had some very special guests attend this year!

We will plan to have a meeting with the Griffin dealership in the next month to review and determine what we can do to make it better. If you have any suggestions, please let us know. Some recommendations were to provide fewer, but more dollar value, door prizes. Another was to widen some of the class year trophies and allow for one to be presented to a club member. (That suggestion came from a non-club participant.) Lastly, congratulations to those members that came home with some of the raffle prizes. There were 17 baskets that were available to win and I believe our members came home with three of them.

IT WAS STILL THE LAW BACK IN THE 70'S_

- In Connecticut, state law rules that cows have as much right on the road as motorists and if they are run into, the owner may collect damages.
- All motorists might want to keep their blood pressure under better control if they adhered to a San Francisco law with rules that automobile drivers must not swear on the public highway.
- In Washington D.C. the law states that if a pedestrian leaps over a passing auto to avoid injury and then strikes the car, they are liable for any damage inflicted to the vehicle.
- In Chicago, ladies can be fined if found to be driving when wearing a hat that covers one eye.
- In Mississippi, it is against the law to smoke a cigarette within ten feet of an automobile.
- In Kansas, no person under the influence of alcoholic liquor should operate any vehicle on a public highway except a wheelbarrow.
- In Sheboygan, a law was passed that makes it illegal for a motorist to drive on the street when he has another on his lap.
- In Oklahoma, a driver can be fined for driving an auto while reading a comic book.

THE FOLLOWING WAS FOUND IN G&D'S FROM THE 60'S & 70'S

Hints for happy motoring

- ✓ A windshield rubbed with a sliced onion will stay clear on rainy days.
- ✓ Leaky radiator? Dump a few oatmeal flakes in. In any emergency, dried horse manure will also work.
- ✓ Fuel line leak, try chewing gum.
- ✓ Back in the day, your emergency kit may include: goggles, tow rope, pump, tire patching kit, canvas bucket, cans of gas and oil, compass, tire chains, small tent and a sleeping bag
